Jakarta on flood alert

The Jakarta Post | Mon, 02/20/2012 11:10 AM

JAKARTA: Heavy downpours in Bogor since Saturday morning have caused water levels in the Katulampa sluice gate to exceed normal levels.

Head of Katulampa gate Andi Sudirman said the water levels had risen to more than 50 centimeters on Sunday morning.

"We're remaining on guard to monitor the situation," said Andi as quoted by Antara.

Katulampa gate holds a water debit that flows into the Ciliwung River, which crosses Jakarta before flowing to the sea. A high water debit at the gate usually causes overflows in several areas of the capital.

Andi advised residents living on the banks of the Ciliwung River in Jakarta to remain alert as water from Bogor would likely reach Jakarta within 12 hours.

An old, old lion realized one day that he was too tired to hunt for his prey anymore. Sadly he went home to his den knowing that soon he would die. But before he lay down he stopped at the entrance, breathing with great difficulty. Speaking in slow, low voice he told the world of his sad condition.

The news of the lion's illness soon spread throughout the forest and caused much concern among the other beasts. One by one they came to visit him and paid their respects. However, the lion's age had also made him wily. And as each animal entered his lair and came within reach, they fell an easy prey to the lion, which soon grew fat.

One day early in the morning, the fox came. He was renowned for his cunning, and approached the den carefully. Standing some distance away he enquired after the lion that looked healthy and asked him if he was feeling better. "Ah, my dearest friend," said the lion "is it you? I can hardly see you; you are so far away, come closer, please and give me some words of consolation for I have not long to live,"

The fox, meanwhile, had been looking closely at the ground in front of the lion's den. At last he looked up, and turning to go. He remarked; "bless you, but excuse me if I do not stay, for, to tell the truth I really quite uneasy at the many footsteps I see leading into your den yet none do I see emerging."

The durian is the fruit of trees of the genus Durio. The fruit is widely known and revered in Southeast Asia as the "King of fruits". A durian is distinctive for its large size, unique odor, and a formidable thorn covered husk.

The fruit can grow up to 30 centimeters (12 in) long and 15 centimeters (6 in) in diameter, and typically weighs one to three kilograms. Its shape ranges from oblong to round, the color of its husk green to brown and its flesh pale-yellow to red, depending on species. The hard outer husk is covered with sharp, prickly thorns, while the edible flesh within emits the distinctive odor. The odor of the ripe fruit is very strong and penetrating, even when the husk of the fruit is still intact.

The flesh of the durian was famously described by the British naturalist, Alfred Russell Wallace. He called it "rich custard highly flavored with almonds." Durians can be consumed at various stages of ripeness, and are used to flavor a wide variety of edibles, both savory and sweet.

Durians from different species or clones can have significantly different aromas. For example, red durian has a deep caramel flavor with a turpentine odor, while red-fleshed durian emits a fragrance of roasted almonds. The degree of ripeness has a great effect on the flavor as well.

31. What are the distinctive features of durian?
- The size, the odor and the husk.
 - The unforgettable flavor.
 - The degree of ripeness.
 - The prickly thorn
32. What does paragraph three tell us about?
- The meaning of the durian.
 - The size of the durian.
 - The different species of the durian.
 - The describing of the flesh of the durian.
33. "...He called it "rich custard highly flavored with almonds"... (Paragraph 3)
The word "he" refers to...
- The flesh of the durian.
 - Alfred Russell Wallace
 - The fragrance of durian.
 - Highly flavored with almonds

34. What is the purpose of the text?
- To describe about durian in general.
 - To retell about durian as the king of fruits.
 - To inform about the size, odor and the husk of durian.
 - To describe the specific durian in our town.
